

Lightning kills 14-year-old

21/10/2006 17:54 - (SA)

Johannesburg - A 14-year-old boy was killed after he was struck by lightning in the North West, SABC radio news reported on Saturday.

Police spokesperson Lazarus Nodwell said the boy died instantly after being struck while walking home from school with a friend.

He came from Tlhakgameng village in the Ganyesa area.

His friend was admitted to a local hospital with minor injuries and later discharged, according to the report.

