

Vol. VIII - Issue No. 39

Search: All Categories

This We

your internet design partner

HomeThe Daily ChewFront PageEditorialLocal NewsReportsOpinionsEconomyCulture & SocietyEnvironmentHealth &LifestyleVarietiesSERVICESWho We ArePublicationsAdvertise With UsEmail NewsletterContact UsYemen ChatObserverClassifiedsEmail this article | Printer fr

Fatal Lightning Strikes Continue

By Observer Staff

Oct 1, 2005 - Vol. VIII Issue 39

SANA'A – The number of deaths from lightning strikes has risen dramatically in 1 weeks, reaching, in the province of Hajja alone, 23 since the onset of the rainy sea

In the last ten days alone, twelve people have been killed around the country, four over two consecutive days, according to security sources. Dozens of other have be

A man and a woman were killed instantly in Malaheedh in Saada by a lightning st another couple were suffered the same fate in Rayma province last week. Floods a their toll, taking the lives of three people in Taiz.

Local sources say the heavy rains in Hajja caused further damage to crops and distr traffic across the province.

Copyright (c) 2004 - 2005
Yemen Observer Newspaper

Email this article | Printer frRelated News Stories

- » Water Shortage Severe in Sana'a, Air Polluted
- » Fatal Lightning Strikes Continue
- » Fatal Lightning Strikes Continue
- » Sudanese Arable Districts for Yemeni Investment
- » Red Sea Countries Sign Environment Protection Accord